

REPRESENTING THE COMPLETE SPECTRUM OF AGRICULTURAL CONSULTING

The American Society of Agricultural Consultants (ASAC) is a non-profit organization founded in 1963, and dedicated to raising the ethical standards and professionalism of agricultural consultants. It is the only professional association representing the entire spectrum of agricultural consulting.

Members:

- Experienced, diverse and influential agricultural/agribusiness professionals
- Located throughout the U.S. and overseas
- Serving clientele both domestically and internationally

Members Benefits

Education:

- Annual Conference
- Monthly webinars
- Regularly scheduled virtual roundtable discussions
- Monthly “Notes from the Field”

Topics related to agriculture/agribusiness and management of consulting businesses.

Certified Agricultural Consultant (CAC) Certification:

- The CAC is the highest level of achievement a member can reach in the organization.
- Ensures individuals deliver services of the highest standards, integrity and quality.
- Earned through a rigorous education program designed by ASAC, and requires 60 hours of continuing education, including an ethics course, every two years.
- The premier mark of professionalism and excellence for ag consultants.

Networking:

- Connect and collaborate with agricultural/agribusiness consultants possessing immense experience across the landscape of the ag industry.
- Members aren't competitors; they support, uplift and provide sounding boards for one another to enhance value for clients.
- Members are passionate about helping each other succeed and raising professional standards within their consulting practices. A successful consulting practice takes more than expertise in a particular field.

REPRESENTING THE COMPLETE SPECTRUM OF AGRICULTURAL CONSULTING

What We Do & Who We Are

Leadership & Integrity

- ASAC fosters leadership, integrity and professional development
- Members' standards and experience are the primary reasons clients benefit by hiring ASAC consultants.
- Clients know that they are engaging someone with integrity who adheres to a strict code of ethics.

Since ASAC's foundation:

Members have been cited in numerous publications and books. Some are in the Agricultural Hall of Fame. Several have published books, and have founded institutions bearing their names. Past and present members are part of ag's history, which is a legacy of excellence.

ASAC consultants are:

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------|
| Financial/credit analysts | Animal nutritionists |
| Ag software developers | Engineers |
| Agricultural producers | Veterinarians |
| Crop & livestock professionals | Geneticists |
| Agricultural engineers | Seed producers |
| Research/extension personnel | Microbiologists |
| Ag & rural appraisers | Lenders |
| Trade & commodity advisors | Journalists |
| Association executives | University professors |
| Public policy administrators | CPAs/tax professionals |

- Business administrators/management consultants
- Specialty crop/new product developers
- Human resource/organizational advisors
- Economic development professionals

Ag real estate & personal property professionals (including farm managers as well as ag brokers/agents)

For more information:

Email: evp@agconsultants.org
 Visit: www.agconsultants.org

American Society of Agricultural Consultants
 N78W14573 Appleton Ave., #287
 Menomonee Falls, WI 53051

